

REMARKS

The foregoing amendment does not attempt to introduce new matter into the present application for invention. Therefore, the Applicant, respectfully, requests that the foregoing amendment be entered in and that the claims to the present application, kindly, be reconsidered.

The Advisory Action dated June 27, 2005 affirmed the rejections contained within the April 14, 2005 Final Office Action. Claims 1-20 are pending in the present application for invention. Claims 1-20 are rejected by the April 14, 2005 Final Office Action as affirmed by the Advisory Action dated June 27, 2005.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. §102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,182,116 issued to Namma et al. (hereinafter referred to as Namma et al.). The foregoing amendment to the claims has modified independent Claims 1, 7 and 12 to distinguish the subject matter defined by the rejected claims from the teachings of Namma et al. The foregoing amendment to Claims 1, 7 and 12 defines subject matter for the user operated web browser to control the linked devices through the master control device and for the user operated web browser to receive data directly from the linked devices that have been selected. This subject matter is not disclosed or suggested by Namma et al. Therefore, this rejection is believed to be moot in view of the foregoing amendment.

Applicant is not aware of any additional patents, publications, or other information not previously submitted to the Patent and Trademark Office which would be required under 37 C.F.R. 1.99.

In view of the foregoing amendment and remarks, the Applicant believes that the present application is in condition for allowance, with such allowance being, respectfully, requested.

Respectfully submitted,

By
